In this letter Lockheed Martin (LM) requests a partial grant of our pending experimental application File Number 0224-EX-PL-2010, for the Fort Worth test location. This partial grant will allow LM to perform a planned demonstration of this equipment at the Fort Worth location on 14 – 16 June. As described in our application the equipment being developed will provide war fighters in the field high-bandwidth communications regardless of location. This technology also has potential to be used in support of first responders in homeland security applications and disaster-response events in the US.
