

Exhibit A
FAA Coordination Comments

Renewal application for current license under FCC call sign WD2XIC is hereby submitted. It is noted that the current license was granted on 18 June 2008, less than 6 months ago, based on coordination with the FAA at that time. Given the recent date of the FAA coordination and that Lockheed Martin is not seeking any changes to the current license, we believe that the existing FAA coordination remains valid for the Commission to grant this renewal.
