

Exhibit 2
Operations Window

We, the Lockheed Marion Corporation, would respectfully request to be able to commence operations in approximately a 2 week time frame for these tests. We are requesting to begin operations on or about the 10th of October. As noted this is for only a short term testing for concept development and could become if systems meet our expectations and the desires of the potential customers.