

The applicant for this FCC license is a Professor of Geography and member of the Institute for Computational Earth System Science at the University of California, Santa Barbara (UCSB). Funding for the research associated with this license was awarded to this Institute and to the Marine Science Institute at UCSB. Thus, the type of applicant is best described as "Institute" or "Marine Science Institute".