

Experimentation Description

Mustang Technology Group is developing a pulsed Doppler radar with a variable duty cycle from 1% to 25%, capable of frequency hopping in the frequency range of 33.5 - 35.5 GHz. This radar will be used for development and refinement of detection and tracking capabilities.