

The purpose for the experimental license is to allow Mustang to continue development and testing of radar equipment in the frequency range of 34.5 GHz to 35.5 GHz for future product development.

Development and testing will include use in an aerial environment with the antenna mounted to an airborne vehicle flying at a maximum height of 1000 feet above the designated test areas.