

URGENT REQUEST TO EXPEDITE PROCESSING OF APPLICATION; 0901-EX-ST-2006; NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE SUPER BOWL FREQUENCIES

It is respectfully requested that the processing of this application be expedited. The application was filed December 19, 2006, and the Super Bowl is to occur on Sunday, February 4, 2007. However, as of today, January 29, 2007, the application is pending and is in a queue for processing that is substantially backlogged.

Beginning tomorrow morning, January 30, 2007, player media interviews begin, and there are substantial security and operations communications necessary that are beginning immediately. The planning for the Super Bowl, which involves tremendous security (including homeland security) arrangements, necessitates the use of the unused television channel sought by this STA.

These channels will be used for virtually everything at the Super Bowl in Miami, and the setup and arrangements for the event cannot be conducted without the use of the channels sought. They will be used for the following purposes:

1. Service level security
2. Personnel escort security
3. Perimeter gate security
4. Guest Services communications
5. Media IFBs
6. Frequency Coordination communications
7. Intercoms for media
8. Ticket security (i.e. ticket scanning)
9. Maintenance
10. Operations communications

Literally, without a grant of this STA immediately, the Super Bowl in Miami cannot be arranged or conducted. The communications for items 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, 9 and 10 are critical right now, Monday, January 29, 2007. The media events begin early tomorrow morning.

The Commission's indulgence in this matter is requested. It was not understood on December 19, 2006 when this STA was requested that the backlog of such applications was so severe. Any further STAs for this purpose will be filed long in advance of the event.
