

Description of Research Project

The overall goal of the NMTsat Mission is to further educate undergraduate and graduate students regarding space technologies at New Mexico Tech (NMT). This will be done through the tasks of designing, building, testing and operating the satellite. It will include operation of the Langmuir Plasma Probe instrument.

The Special Temporary Authority License requested, is necessary to authorize radio transmission of data from the NMTsat satellite.