

This application submitted to allow Northrop Grumman Corporation ('NGC') to operate an experimental radar facility at the Ohio State University in Columbus, Ohio. The experimental authorization will be used to further test and develop the APN-241 radar at the university. NGC is currently authorized to operate a technically similar facility in Linthicum, Maryland, under the Call Sign of KB2XAG.