Thanks for the link. I was looking at a different rule that had a limit on the EIRP, which I was within. Since the PCS band will not allow enough power, what about the 2025-2110 MHz band? I did not see the specific rule for this, so I was unable to find the power limit. Also, we would like to test some hardware at a certain altitude in a weather balloon. Would this license work for this, or would I need to submit another application?
