

Project/contract number is the SOCOM contract. H92236-11-D-0004

Purpose: For experimentation with handheld communications devices common in the Middle East and other overseas location. The UML will use this equipment in the experimentation with and development of technical communications and electronic warfare systems for US Special Forces and other government customers.