

Antenna Information

Directional antennas will be used for receiving and NOT transmitting. These antennas will be placed in multiple horizontal orientations, aimed roughly parallel to the ground or slightly towards the ground, and have an effective angular width of approximately 45 degrees. They will be used only to receive UWB transmissions from devices on the sports field in front of them, no more than 150 yards away.