

This license will be used for antenna verification. It involves testing individual antenna panels in the X-band and UHF band. Testing will take place at Raytheon Dallas facility inside the anechoic chamber. It will involve generating a pulse with a test spectrum generator and transmitting it with a test horn towards the main antenna.