Hi John,

That is correct. I apologize for not converting. Frank kept giving me the information in dBm. Please let me know if there are any other questions or if this is something I need to amend on the application.

thanks,
karla

Mr. Rayal appears to be requesting 14 dBm ERP which is 25 milliwatts ERP. Is this so?

John,

Below is an email from Redline stating that they can operate at 1 milliwatt power. Do you need me to amend the STA application that I filed?

Thanks again for everything. I really appreciate your time and patience.

Karla, we can do 1 milliwatt. That is 0dBm power and 14 dBm ERP.

Frank
