

From: Michael Byfield

To: Travis Nguyen

Date: March 11, 2021

Subject: FCC-File.No:0191-EX-CN-2021

---

Message:

We use the GPS repeater system to test various GPS receivers for use in our avionics systems. Our avionics engineers experiment with how the receivers perform under a number of tests, record the results, and then use that data to make recommendations for optimizing aircraft safety and ensure we are complying with all airport/FAA regulations. Their testing also assists us in continually updating best practices and performance in Basic Aviation Risk Standard assessments, ultimately leading to a better and safer product for our clients.