

Fee Exemption

Per a conversation between Rockwell Collins employee, Joseph Cramer and FCC employee Tony Sarafini no fee is required for this license application. Mr. Sarafini told Mr. Cramer that because the previous experimental license renewal application for KA2XFL was rejected due to the length of time it was being processed by the FCC and the fact that it was rejected only because of the amount of time in the system, no fee would be charged to Rockwell Collins to file a new application for this experimental license.

If you have any question, please feel free to contact Joseph Cramer at 703-516-8213.
