GAMER (STI) Project*Confidentiality Claim

GAMER is a new product developed by Saab Training Systems AB using company research and development funds. The communication design of the system is a unique and a proprietary aspect of the new product. Premature release of this information to competitors may risk the R&D investment and lessen competition in this industry. Confidentiality of the design information is requested to protect proprietary and company owned technical data.

LIMITED RIGHTS LEGEND

The restrictions governing the use and disclosure of this data are defined in FAR clause 252.227-7013
