

Exhibit 3

Communications via cell, mobile data services or land mobile services is prohibited ...there are also aircraft position systems such as ACARS which are not usable because the research nature of balloon/sensor package may require messages and control strategies which do not fit in the protocols which are required by such systems.

