

EXHIBIT 1
FCC FORM 442 ITEM 10

An experimental license has been requested for the purpose of integrating and testing several electronics payloads to be carried on a miniature surveillance aircraft now being developed in Huntsville, AL. The aircraft is commonly referred to as a UAV, an unmanned airborne vehicle. This aircraft is now under development without a US government contract, however a request for proposal has been anticipated from the US Army at the Redstone Arsenal.