

Top view

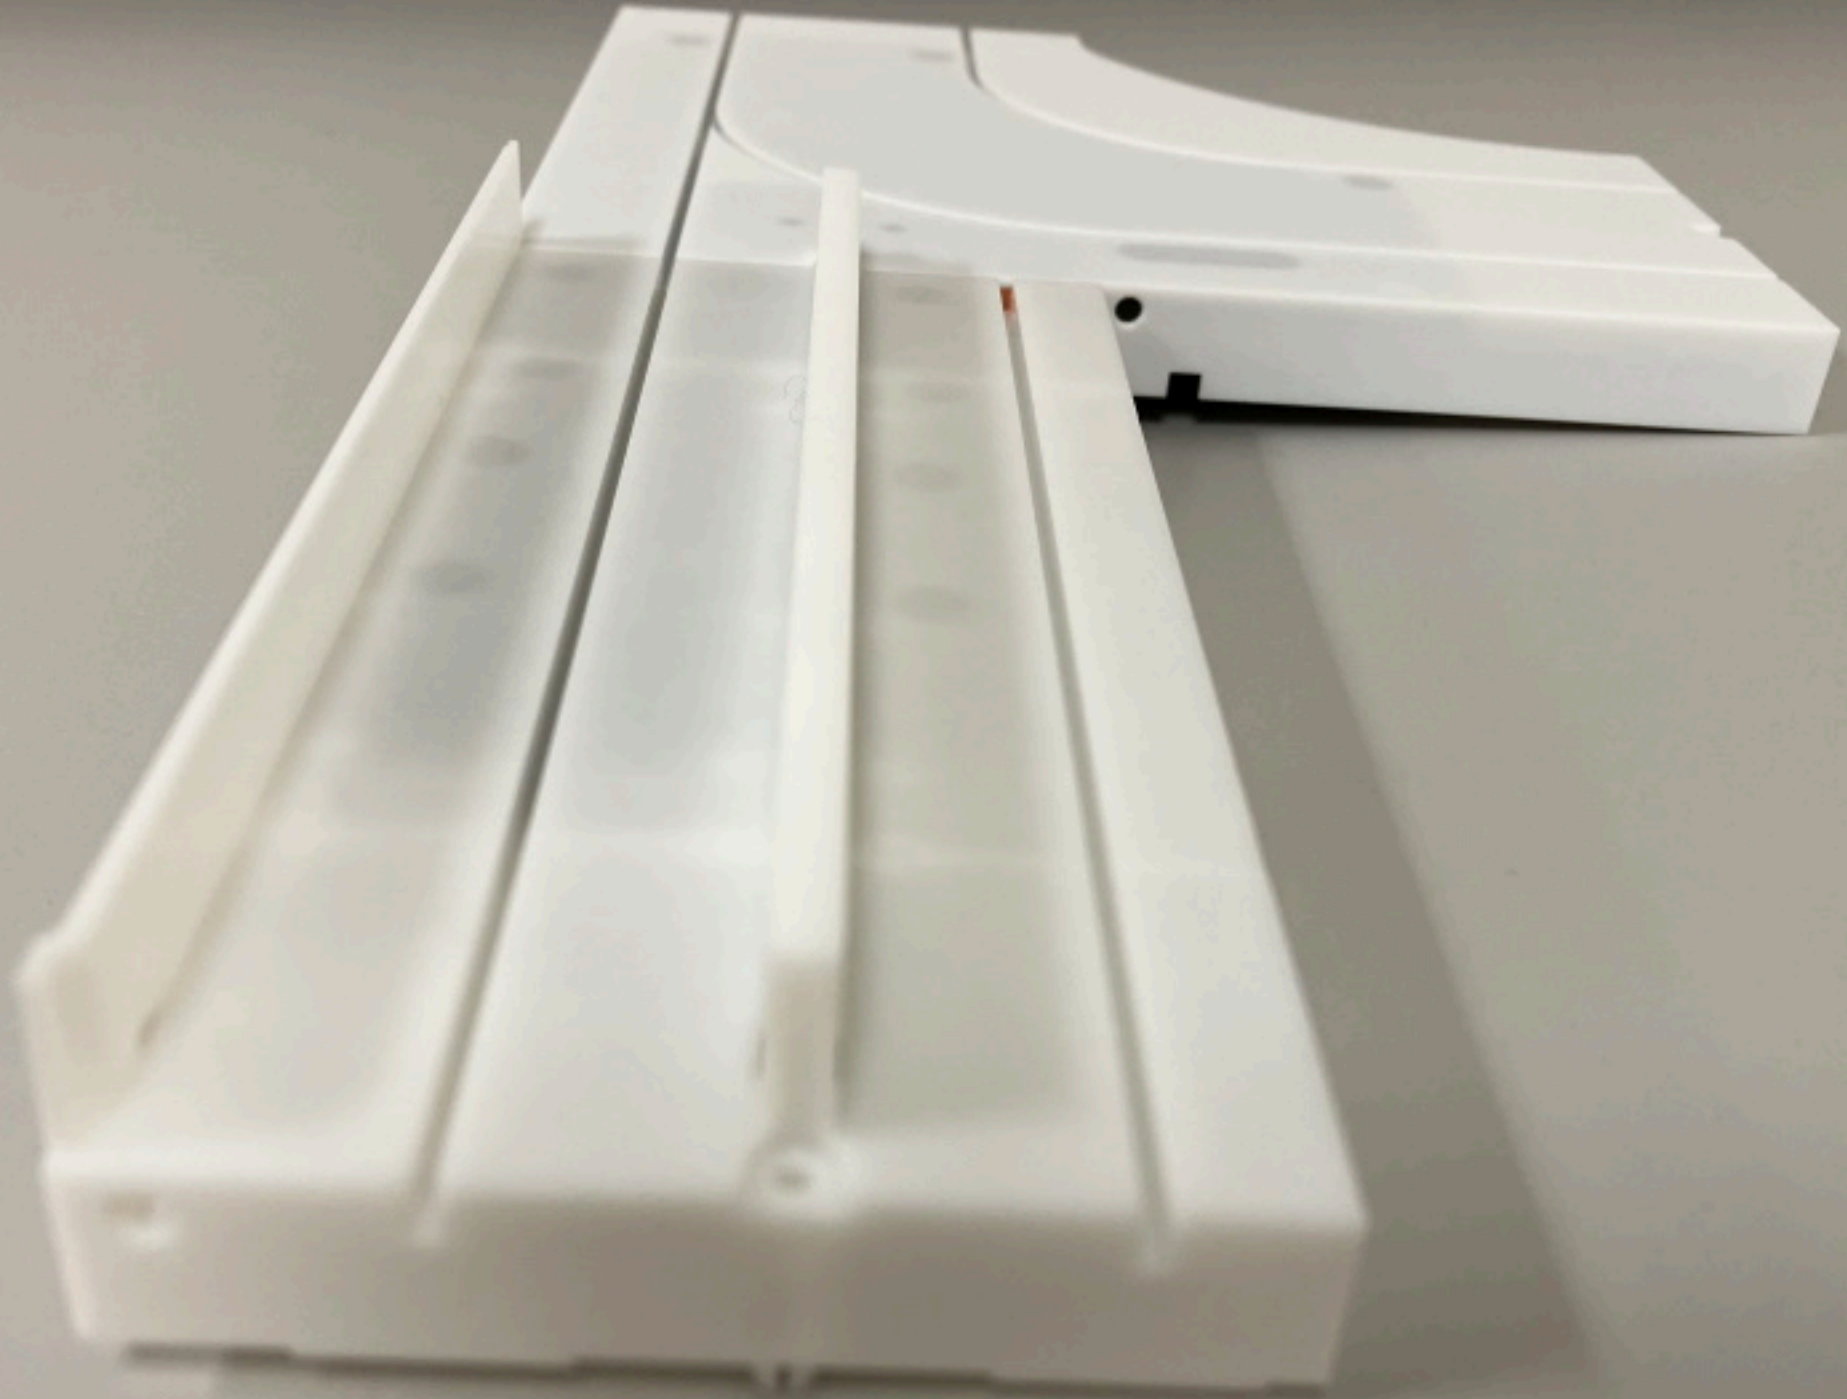

Bottom view

Front view

Rear view

Right view

A white, curved mechanical part, possibly a bracket or a cover, is shown from a perspective view. The part has a semi-circular shape on the left side and a straight edge on the right. A central slot runs along the length of the part. Two small, dark, cylindrical features are visible on the bottom edge, likely mounting points. The part is set against a plain, light-colored background.

Left view