

Declaration on model difference

We the undersigned hereby confirm that the main EUT of the four models is the same, have the same RF module and antenna, PCB layout and schematics, only the model number is different, and it is used with four different induction devices. The four collocation methods have been tested, and the report shows the worst case

All models consist of different combinations of the main equipment and different induction devices. All configuration methods were tested and worst-case scenarios (all 4 sensing devices) were given in the report.
