

The polymer-based decals are printed using indelible thermal-transfer resin and attached with a permanent adhesive. They are applied on the back of each device case. Above demonstrates the decal on a sensor case. Below shows the decal on a gateway case.

