ESTABLISHING A CONNECTION

For Windows® Operating systems Users

Before connecting your mouse, please make sure you have properly set up and enabled the Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled radio (e.g. a Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled dongle) onto your computer. To pair your mouse with your computer, follow the instructions below:

1. Turn on your computer and enable the Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled radio function on your computer if you have not yet done so.
2. Open the Bluetooth® settings on your computer and set it to search for Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled devices.
3. Turn on your mouse by switching the Power Switch on the bottom to the ON position.

4. Press the Connect Button on the bottom of your mouse and place your mouse within 30 feet of the device to make your mouse searchable, in the course of searching, you can see the LED light flash on the scroll wheel part, once the mouse paired, the flash light will disappear.
5. Search for your mouse on your computer using the Bluetooth® software. Follow the on-screen instructions to complete the pairing process (NOTE: For more information, please refer to your Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled radio user manual for more instructions on how to pair). Your mouse is now ready to be used.

For Mac OS X® 10.3 and above Users

Your operating system natively supports devices with pairing with Bluetooth® wireless technology. This section demonstrates one of the easiest ways to connect your mouse to your computer.

NOTE: The procedures listed below are for demonstration only and are based on Mac OS X®10.3 with default settings. The procedures and screenshots may look slightly different than yours but with similar options. If you need further help to set up a device with Bluetooth® wireless technology, please refer to your computer user manual for more information.

1. Turn on your computer and make sure your have properly installed your Bluetooth® wireless technology enabled dongle (if applicable).

2. At your desktop, click the System Preferences on the bottom of the screen, click the Bluetooth icon on the pop-up window, then select Turn Bluetooth On to enable the Bluetooth feature. Press the Connect Button on the bottom of your mouse and place your mouse within 30 feet of the device to make your mouse searchable, in the course of searching, you can see the LED light flash on the scroll wheel part, once the mouse paired, the flash light will disappear.

3. Click Pair on the right side of the window.

4. Your mouse is now ready to be used.
