FCC Compliance Label

The Frog Sensor has the following label applied to the underside of the sensor. This is not visible once installed but is when the device is purchase from frogparking.

The label is located on the stainless steel mounting plate (refer to wireless link component images) by the external aerial, and is visible when the wireless link is fully assembled. A mock-up of the label is show in to correct location below.

When assembled, the label is visible as shown in the following image. This is how the wireless link appears once assembled and ready for shipping.
