Good Day Evelyn,

Thank you for the email below. I know it has taken some time to reply, but I wanted to make sure that I had complied with the findings that you had outlined in your email below before I sent you a response.

Concerning the fee payment, I made that for ACSS the following day, 14 August 2014. I hope your records indicate the same. I have already received my credit card bill for it.

As for the documentation uploads, that took me some effort, but I was finally able to get all of ACSS' documentation uploaded to the site. I believe that I completed this task last Thursday, 4 September 2014. Hopefully, everything is there to make a positive finding. If not, I know that you or the assigned engineer will let me know and I will work on getting any additional documentation uploaded.

I thank you for your support with this FCC license task and I am looking forward to receiving ACSS' FCC license for this product (NXT Transponder).

Have a great day.

Sincerely,

PHil
