

Operational Principle

Transmitting:

When push forward/backward, left/right handle, IC1 will receive relative instruction, and then transmitting corresponding coded signals, this coded signal and the local oscillator signals (generated by Q3.X1.L1 and other components of the oscillator circuit) were amplification by Q4 mixer controller, From L2 transmitting a modulated signal of coded signal to control the ship's forward, backwards, left and right through antenna.