

A black handheld electronic device, possibly a walkie-talkie or a similar communication device, is shown. It has a red antenna on the left side and a red button on the right side. A black cable is attached to the left side. The device is mounted on a red plastic stand. Two white labels are affixed to the device: one at the top with the FCC ID and one at the bottom with FCC compliance information.

FCC ID:2AIY3Y161131

This device complies with Part 15 of the FCC Rules.
Operation is subject to the following two conditions:
(1) This device may not cause harmful interference, and
(2) This device must accept any interference received, including interference that may cause undesired operation