

Any Changes expressly or modifications not approved by the party responsible for compliance could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.