

3) The label appears to be placed on the visor clamp. If this is removable, then it is not considered a permanent part of the enclosure and its location would not be acceptable.

The visor clip is non removable. Its removal results in breaking the plastic chassis, which in turn prevents the integrated battery clip from functioning, rendering the product unusable.