

Label Format and Location

The product label is affixed to a flap inside the battery housing on the bottom side of the product. This flap is permanently attached to the product via heatstaking. See the location and format below:

Label location in battery housing:

