10. Either party may terminate this Agreement upon 30 days prior written notice to the other party. Recipient's duties and obligations with regard to Confidential Information disclosed prior to such termination shall survive for a period of five (5) years from the termination of this Agreement.

11. Since unauthorized disclosure or use of Confidential Information may diminish the value of the proprietary interests that are the subject of this Agreement, if Recipient breaches any of its obligations under this Agreement, in addition to any other available rights and remedies it may have, Discloser will be entitled to seek immediate equitable relief to protect its interests therein, including but not limited to injunctive relief. Either party may change its address for receiving notices by providing notice of the new address to the other party.

15. If any provision of this Agreement is held invalid, the remaining provisions of the Agreement will not be affected and the parties will substitute a valid provision which most closely approximates the intent and legal effect of the invalid provision.

16. Neither party may assign or otherwise transfer this Agreement or any rights and obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party.

17. Any failure by either party to enforce strict performance by the other party of any provision of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of the right to subsequently enforce that provision or any other provision of this Agreement and no term or provision of this Agreement shall be considered waived unless the waiver is in writing and signed by the party against whom the waiver is asserted.

18. This Agreement is the entire agreement between the parties relating to its subject matter, and supersedes all prior written and oral communications and agreements relating to its subject matter. This Agreement may only be modified by a written agreement signed by persons duly authorized to sign agreements on behalf of the parties.
