Safety

To achieve maximum safety while using the ULX, we suggest you adopt the following:

If you have issues operating the device and troubleshooting does not work unplug the mouse, turn off the mouse and contact Finalmouse at support@finalmouse.com. Do not attempt to service or fix the mouse yourself at anytime.

Do not take the mouse apart and do not attempt to operate it under abnormal current loads.

Changes or modifications not expressly approved by Finalmouse LLC could void the user's authority to operate the equipment.

Replacing a battery with an incorrect type may remove protection, disposing of a battery in a fire or hot oven, or mechanically crushing or cutting a battery, may cause an explosion; keeping a battery in a high-temperature environment may cause an explosion, or leakage of flammable liquid or gas. A battery subjected to extremely low air pressure may cause an explosion or leakage of flammable liquid or gas.

Keep the mouse away from liquid, humidity or moisture. Operate the mouse only within the temperature range of 0° C (32° F) to 40° C (104° F). If the temperature exceeds these specified ranges unplug the mouse and turn off the mouse to let the mouse and environment stabilize to the desired level.

FCC Note

Note: This equipment has been tested and found to comply with the limits for a Class B digital device, pursuant to part 15 of the FCC Rules. These limits are designed to provide reasonable protection against harmful interference in a residential installation. This equipment generates, uses and can radiate radio frequency energy and, if not installed and used in accordance with the instructions, may cause harmful interference to radio communications. However, there is no guarantee that interference will not occur in a particular installation. If this equipment does cause harmful interference to radio or television reception, which can be determined by turning the equipment off and on, the user is encouraged to try to correct the interference by one or more of the following measures:

- Reorient or relocate the receiving antenna.
- Increase the separation between the equipment and receiver.
- Connect the equipment into an outlet on a circuit different from that to which the receiver is connected.
- Consult the dealer or an experienced radio/TV technician for help
