Hi Dennis,

(1) This Users Manual is applied for family Models as it stated in the front cover. 1 meter separation is applied for Model IC-F121 which was certified by you ATCB earlier. 79 cm is a separation applied for Model IC-F221 that is applied under this application. Page 13 only shows symbolic mean of vehicle mount antenna, it is not an instruction of antenna installation. We have never had this problem with FCC in many of our similar application before.

(2) I will have the photos with the shield removed for you later.

(3) That is weird and will send you a new file later.

Tri Luu
