RE: Icom Incorporated

FCC ID: AFJ262700

I have a few comments on the above referenced Application.

- 1) Please provide:
  - a) DC voltages & /currents applied into the several elements of the final radio frequency amplifying device for normal operation over the power range.
  - b) Parts List for this device.
  - c) Description of all circuitry and devices provided for determining and stabilizing frequency, for suppression of spurious radiation, for limiting modulation, and for limiting power.
- 2) Please explain how the device is compliant with 95.193(b). Be sure to include an explanation of the various tones (including ATS ) and how these are considered compliant.
- 3) Please explain how the device is compliant with 95.647
- 4) The occupied bandwidth should be measured to the outside of the emissions noted. Please correct.
- 5) The emissions designator in the users manual does not match the 731 form. Please explain and correct the exhibits.
- 6) Specific users manual information specified by 95.653 does not appear to be in the users manual. Please explain and/or correct the users manual.
