The image shows the back of a black Sony PSP-1000. The battery cover is removed and placed to the left, revealing the internal battery compartment with a yellow battery cover and a small red battery terminal. The UMD cover is also removed and placed to the left, showing the UMD slot. The back of the console features a large silver circular logo with the PSP logo inside. The text "SONY" and "PSP-1000" are visible on the top left of the back cover. The console is resting on a light-colored wooden surface.
