Reference: Correspondence 25585

In response to the above referenced correspondence we present the following:

- 1) The User cannot program the device. The letter is included in the submittal package as a matter of course.
- 2) LMR Part 90 does not have a channel plan.
- 3) Advertised specification is 4W. All Kenwood Communications LMR products use a TX leveling circuit with reserve capacity (headspace); tolerance is typically +/- 0.3 W for a UHF portable.
- 4) Power and SAR versus time: Please see items uploaded to the RF Exposure Exhibit.
- 5) SAR for low and high channels: Please see items uploaded to the RF Exposure Exhibit.
- 6) Justification for verification performed: Please see items uploaded to the RF Exposure Exhibit.

We trust the above meets the requirements of the Commission and the Grant will be issued.

Regards,
M. Flom Associates, Inc.
