

Description of Operation

Using the remote control to active the function. The IC board will code the function then send by the 315 MHZ frequency to the receiving IC board, the receiving IC board will dis-coded the function then active the machinery.