To whom it may concern:

This letter is to comply with 47 CFR Parts 0.457 and 0.459 pertaining to confidential material. Honeywell International would like the following documents regarding this submission for FCC ID: AOISARA to be kept as Long-Term Confidentiality.

1. All Schematics
2. System Overviews/Operational Descriptions
3. Block Diagrams
4. User/Maintenance Manuals
5. Internal Photos

The above material contains trade secrets or technical data, which would customarily be guarded from competitors. We do not want these documents to be accessible to the general public. Items 4. and 5. are available to our customers once a Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) or Memorandum of Understanding (MOA) is in place. A copy of the "Protection of Proprietary Information" language from such an MOA, on this AOISARA product, is attached for reference.

Sincerely,

Keith Peavler

Sr. Chief Engineer

17.5.2 "Protection of Proprietary Information" Proprietary Information (as defined in this Section) shall be maintained by the receiving Party in confidence utilizing measures no less stringent than those used to protect the receiving Party's own Proprietary Information (but not less than reasonable care), disseminated within the receiving Party only on a need-to-know basis and not disclosed to third party except to the extent authorized by the disclosing Party under Section 14 Intellectual Property; provided, however, a receiving Party may disclose the other Party's Proprietary Information to third parties participating in the Aircraft program so long as such third parties have a need-to-know in furtherance of the Aircraft program and are legally bound to confidentiality obligations no less stringent than those set forth herein. Proprietary Information of a disclosing Party shall be used by the receiving Party only in furtherance of the purposes of this Agreement or, if and to the extent expressly approved by the disclosing Party, in furtherance of other activities with or on behalf of the disclosing Party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, each Party may disclose Proprietary Information to its officers, directors, parent companies, attorneys and other representatives; provided, that such Party shall be responsible for any use or disclosure of such Proprietary Information by such officers, directors, parent companies, attorneys and other representatives.

17.5.3 "Return Upon Request" Upon this Agreement's termination or expiration, or the request of the disclosing Party made at any time, the receiving Party promptly will either return the disclosing Party's Proprietary Information (including any copies, extracts and summaries) or destroy such information and provide the disclosing Party with written certification of same.

17.5.4 "Information Rightfully Received" Neither Party shall have any obligation or liability with respect to the other's information to the extent that such information (i) is already rightfully known by the receiving Party at the time it is obtained by said Party, free from any obligation to keep such information confidential; (ii) is or becomes publicly known through no wrongful act of the receiving Party; (iii) is rightfully received by the receiving Party from a third party without restriction and without breach of this Agreement; or (iv) must be disclosed pursuant to a court order or as required by any governmental or administrative authority or authorized regulatory agency, including to the extent required under rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and other U.S. securities laws applicable to companies with publicly traded securities, provided that a Party ordered to disclose the other Party's Proprietary Information shall notify the other Party in advance of any such disclosure and use its reasonable efforts to limit and to assist the other Party in limiting such disclosure.

17.5.5 Section 17.5 supersedes any prior Proprietary Information Agreement / Non-Disclosure Agreement between the Parties to the extent the subject matter is within the scope of this Agreement.

17.6 Assignment

Except as further provided herein, neither Party will assign all or any part of its interest, rights or obligations in this Agreement to any person, firm, corporation, or subcontractors without the express prior consent of the other Party, which shall not be unreasonably withheld. However, either Party may assign, without consent of the other Party, its rights or interest in this Agreement by way of merger or consolidation or a sale of 100% of the business assets to which this Agreement relates.
