Mr. Coperich:

In answer to your request for information: "please indicate how the operation of this unit satisfies these guidelines"...

The equipment for this application has shown technical compliance with Section 74.801 of FCC Rules Part 74, as verified by our agent, M. Flom Associates Inc.

This is a body worn unit which is operated by plugging a small lapel type microphone into the transmitter and placing the unit on a performer. The unit is worn by a performer in a program for a broadcast or motion picture production during rehearsal or during the actual performance or recording of the performance. The unit is also used to transmit interviews and reports from the scene of a remote broadcast.

I trust the above will answer you query.

Sincerely ,
