Re: FCC ID BMTHSD-5000

Dear Sir:

We formally request confidentiality for the Operation and Service Manual submitted with this application. This document contains proprietary design specific information and schematic diagrams that are not released in the public domain. To publicly disclose this information would provide public disclosure of trade secrets and damage our competitive advantages.

Customers of this product are provided with a copy of the manual to guide them in the safe deployment, field service, and utilization of the transmitter.

Thank you in advance for your understanding and cooperation.

Sincerely,
