WARNING:

- Do not disassemble, assemble, or modify the RSE system. Such acts could result in accidents, fire, or electric shock.
- Heed caution not to spill water or introduce foreign objects into the device.
   Such acts could lead to smoke, fire, or product malfunction.
- Please refrain from use if the screen is blank or no sound can be heard as these signs may indicate product malfunction. Continued use in such conditions could lead to accidents (fires, electric shock) or product malfunctions.
- Do not disassemble or modify the headphones.
   Such acts could result in accidents, fire, or electric shock.

 Store the headphones in a door pocket when they are not being used in order to reduce the chance of injury in case of an accident or sudden stop.

Precautions for safety

CAUTION:

- Turn on the car ignition before using this device. Do not operate the RSE System for long periods of time with the ignition turned off as such operations may lead to battery discharge.
- Adjust the volume to levels that allow the driver to hear sounds from outside of the vehicle. Driving in a state where external sounds cannot be heard may lead to accidents.
- Pay attention to the volume setting when turning the device on. A sudden output of extreme volume upon turning the device on could lead to hearing impairment. (Adjust the volume to a suitable level before turning off the device.)
- Do not subject the device to severe shock or impact. Direct pressure onto the front side of the monitor may cause damage to the LCD or touch screen.
- When cleaning the device, make sure to turn off the device and use a dry and smooth cloth. Never use tough materials, chemical cloths, or solvents(alcohol, benzene, thinners, etc.) as such materials may damage the device panel or cause color/quality deterioration.

Precautions for safety

- When experiencing product malfunctions, inquire with your place of purchase or service maintenance center.
- Do not expose the headphones to direct sunlight, strong heat and/or a highly humid environment. The headphones could become deformed and the batteries in them could leak or even explode under these conditions.
- Avoid dropping the headphones and hitting them against hard objects.
- Do not sit on the headphones or place anything heavy on them.

About Disc

- After using a disc, put the disc back in its original case to prevent disc scratches.
- Do not use abnormally shaped discs (8cm, heart-shaped, octagon-shaped) as such discs could lead to malfunctions.
- Do not clean discs with chemical solutions, such as alcohol, benzene or thinners.
- Do not expose the disc to direct sunlight or high temperatures for prolonged periods of time. Such exposure may lead to disc deformation.
- Upon playing a disc contaminated by dirt or other substances, the sound and video quality may deteriorate and result in skipping sounds.

Writing on either side of the disc could result in damage to disc surfaces.

- Clean fingerprints and dust off the disc surface (coated side) with a soft cloth.
- Video CDs cannot be played. (However, such discs may still abnormally operate.)
- Do not to introduce foreign substances into the disc insert/eject slot. Introducing foreign substances could damage the device interior.
- The device may fail to properly operate in extremely hot or cold temperatures.
- Steam can become condensed on the fiber optic lens due to rain, wet conditions, or upon operating the heating system. In such cases, discs may not be properly recognized could be the cause of product malfunction. Remove the disc and wait until the moisture dries.

- Skipping may occur to the audio and video when driving on bumpy roads for prolonged periods of time or upon severe shock to the vehicle. In case of severe shock, video and audio may not properly play.
- Do not attach stickers or labels on to discs. Stickers or labels could cause damage to the system.
- Do not insert more than one disc at once. Such acts could lead to product damage or malfunctions.
- Do not forcefully eject or pull on discs when a disc is being loaded into the disc player. Such acts could lead to product damage or malfunctions.
- Non-genuine discs may result in disc recognition failure or product malfunction.
