

Parts Lists/Tune Up Info

The Parts List information for the device for which certification is sought is provided only for those items considered field serviceable as outlined within the Users Manual, included as a submission, within the Service section. All other areas of the transmitter are considered non-user serviceable.

The transmitter Tune Up procedure for the device for which certification is sought is contained within the Users Manual included as a submission, within the Commissioning section. No tuning is required for the RF stages as they are all broadband stages as indicated in the manual supplied and contain no user serviceable parts.
