

Getting Started

Microsoft® Wireless BlueTrack™ Mouse

For distribution only with a new computer

⚠ Warning For important safety and health information, read the “Microsoft Product Guide” later in this manual.

Setting Up the Mouse

1 Insert the battery or batteries

The mouse requires one or two AA batteries (included in the package).

Note Always use new batteries whenever you need to replace them.

- 1 Remove the battery compartment cover on the underside of the mouse.
- 2 Insert the new battery or batteries. Be sure to properly orient the positive (+) and negative (-) ends as shown in the battery compartment. Replace the battery compartment cover.

2 Turn on the mouse (some models only)

- If your mouse has an On/Off switch on the underside, ensure that it is turned on.

Tip When not in use, turn off the mouse to conserve battery life.

3 Plug in the transceiver

- With your computer turned on, plug the transceiver into a USB port on your computer. Setup is complete.

Storing the Transceiver

When on the move, you can store the transceiver on the underside of the mouse.

If the transceiver fits into the battery compartment cover, snap it into the cover to turn off the mouse and conserve battery life.

If you have a vertical slot for the Nano Transceiver, insert the transceiver into the slot. To remove the transceiver, press the button (as shown below).

Tips for Using the Mouse

- When the battery indicator blinks red slowly, replace the battery or batteries.
- The battery indicator glows green for a few seconds when you insert a new battery or batteries, or turn on the mouse.
- Use this BlueTrack mouse almost anywhere, including kitchen counters, the living room floor, or a park bench.

Using the IntelliPoint software

The IntelliPoint software was installed on your computer by the computer manufacturer.

To start IntelliPoint

- Click Start, click All Programs, click Microsoft Mouse, and then click Microsoft Mouse.

To open IntelliPoint Help

- Click Start, click All Programs, click Microsoft Mouse, and then click Mouse Help. If you already have IntelliPoint open, just click the Help button.

Software Features

Magnifier and Flip 3D (or Instant Viewer in Windows® XP) are among the many features provided by the IntelliPoint software. Magnifier works like a magnifying glass to enlarge text and images on your screen, while Flip 3D or Instant Viewer allows you to see all open items on the desktop.

Note If Aero® is turned off in Windows Vista®, you will see Instant Viewer instead of Flip 3D.

To turn the Magnifier on and off

- Click the mouse button assigned to Magnifier to turn it on. Click the mouse button again when you are ready to turn it off.

To use Flip 3D or Instant Viewer

- Click the mouse button assigned to Flip 3D or Instant Viewer to view the grid of all open windows, and then click the window you want to make active.

For more information, see IntelliPoint Help.

Troubleshooting and Support

If you have a question about your mouse, try the following:

- Read through this manual.
- Read IntelliPoint Help, which contains product information and troubleshooting tips.

- Review the IntelliPoint Readme file for late-breaking product information. The Readme file is located in the same folder where the software is installed, typically at: `[drive:]\Program Files\Microsoft IntelliPoint\Readme.txt`.
- For additional product information, go to the Microsoft Hardware Web site at www.microsoft.com/hardware.

If you need further assistance, contact your computer supplier.

Important Safety Information

AC-Powered Devices

These precautions apply to all products that plug into a standard wall power outlet.

Failure to take the following precautions can result in serious injury or death from electric shock or fire or in damage to the device.

To select an appropriate power source for your device:

- Use only the power supply unit and AC power cord that came with your device or that you received from an authorized repair center.
- Confirm that your electrical outlet provides the type of power indicated on the power supply unit (in terms of voltage [V] and frequency [Hz]). If you are not sure of the type of power supplied to your home, consult a qualified electrician.
- Do not use non-standard power sources, such as generators or inverters, even if the voltage and frequency appear acceptable. Only use AC power provided by a standard wall outlet.
- Do not overload your wall outlet, extension cord, power strip, or other electrical receptacle. Confirm that they are rated to handle the total current (in amps [A]) drawn by the device (indicated on the power supply unit) and any other devices that are on the same circuit.

To avoid damaging the power cords and power supply:

- Protect the power cords from being walked on.
- Protect cords from being pinched or sharply bent, particularly where they connect to the power outlet, the power supply unit, and the device.
- Do not jerk, knot, sharply bend, or otherwise abuse the power cords.
- Do not expose the power cords to sources of heat.
- Keep children and pets away from the power cords. Do not allow them to bite or chew on them.
- When disconnecting the power cords, pull on the plug—do not pull on the cord.

If a power cord or power supply becomes damaged in any way, stop using it immediately. Unplug your device during lightning storms or when unused for long periods of time.

For devices with an AC power cord that connects to the power supply, always connect the power cord according to the following instructions:

- 1 Plug the AC power cord into the power supply until it stops.
- 2 Plug the other end of the AC power cord into the wall outlet.

Battery-Powered Devices

These precautions apply to all products that use rechargeable or disposable batteries.

Improper use of batteries may result in battery fluid leakage, overheating, or explosion. Released battery fluid is corrosive and may be toxic. It can cause skin and eye burns, and is harmful if swallowed.

To reduce the risk of injury:

- Keep batteries out of reach of children.
- Do not heat, open, puncture, mutilate, or dispose of batteries in fire.
- Do not mix new and old batteries or batteries of different types (for example, carbon-zinc and alkaline batteries).
- Do not allow metal objects to touch the battery terminals on the device; they can become hot and cause burns.
- Remove the batteries if they are worn out or before storing your device for an extended period of time.
- Always remove old, weak, or worn-out batteries promptly and recycle or dispose of them in accordance with Local and National Disposal Regulations.
- If a battery leaks, remove all batteries, taking care to keep the leaked fluid from touching your skin or clothes. If fluid from the battery comes into contact with skin or clothes, flush skin with water immediately. Before inserting new batteries, thoroughly clean the battery compartment with a damp paper towel, or follow the battery manufacturer's recommendations for cleanup.

Disposable (non-rechargeable) batteries only:

- Caution Risk of explosion if battery is replaced by an incorrect type. Use and replace only with the correct size and type (alkaline, zinc-carbon, or zinc-chloride) of batteries.

Rechargeable batteries only:

- Caution Risk of explosion if battery is replaced by an incorrect type. Use and replace only with the same type and rating as the batteries provided.

- Charge only with the recharger provided with the product.

Lithium button cell batteries only:

- Perchlorate Material -- special handling may apply. See: www.dtsc.ca.gov/hazardouswaste/perchlorate

Headset Devices

Extended exposure to high volumes when using a headset may result in temporary or permanent hearing loss.

To prevent damage to your headset, avoid sitting or stepping on the headset, its cable, or the cable connector.

Webcam Devices

Webcam with magnetic and adhesive mounting

After the adhesive attachment disc has been applied to the mounting surface, removing it may damage the cosmetic coating and/or leave an adhesive residue.

Applying the attachment disc next to or directly to a CRT-based display screen may cause permanent visual distortion of the displayed image near the area mounted.

Wireless Devices

Before boarding any aircraft or packing a wireless device in luggage that will be checked, remove the batteries from the wireless device or turn the wireless device off (if it has an on/off switch). Wireless devices can transmit radio frequency (RF) energy, much like a cellular telephone, whenever batteries are installed and the wireless device is turned on (if it has an on/off switch).

Keyboard and Mouse Devices

Health Warning

Use of a keyboard or mouse may be linked to serious injuries or disorders.

When using a computer, as with many activities, you may experience occasional discomfort in your hands, arms, shoulders, neck, or other parts of your body. However, if you experience symptoms such as persistent or recurring discomfort, pain, throbbing, aching, tingling, numbness, burning sensation, or stiffness, DO NOT IGNORE THESE WARNING SIGNS. PROMPTLY SEE A QUALIFIED HEALTH PROFESSIONAL, even if symptoms occur when you are not working at your computer. Symptoms like these can be associated with painful and sometimes permanently disabling injuries or disorders of the nerves, muscles, tendons, or other parts of the body. These musculoskeletal disorders (MSDs) include carpal tunnel syndrome, tendonitis, tenosynovitis, and other conditions.

While researchers are not yet able to answer many questions about MSDs, there is general agreement that many factors may be linked to their occurrence, including: overall health, stress and how one copes with it, medical and physical conditions, and how a person positions and uses his or her body during work and other activities (including use of a keyboard or mouse). The amount of time a person performs an activity may also be a factor.

Some guidelines that may help you work more comfortably with your computer and possibly reduce your risk of experiencing an MSD can be found in the "Healthy Computing Guide" installed with this device's software. If this device did not come with software, you can access the "Healthy Computing Guide" at www.microsoft.com/hardware or (in the United States only) by calling (800) 360-7561 to request a CD at no charge.

If you have questions about how your own lifestyle, activities, or medical, or physical condition may be related to MSDs, see a qualified health professional.

Devices with Laser Pointers

Caution Use of controls or adjustments, or performance of procedures other than those specified herein may result in hazardous radiation exposure.

- Do not stare into beam.
- Do not shine a laser pointer at anyone. Laser pointers are designed to illuminate inanimate objects.

- Do not allow minors to use a pointer unsupervised. Laser pointers are not toys.
- Do not point a laser pointer at a mirror-like (reflective) surface. A reflected beam can act like a direct beam on the eye.
- Do not disassemble the device.
- Do not use the device outside of its specified operating temperature range +41°F (+5°C) to +95°F (+35°C). If the device is exposed to an environment outside of its prescribed operation, turn off the device and allow the temperature to stabilize within the specified operating range before using the device.

All Devices

Choking Hazard

This device may contain small parts which may be a choking hazard to children under 3. Keep small parts away from children.

Do Not Attempt Repairs

Do not attempt to take apart, open, service, or modify the hardware device or power supply. Doing so could present the risk of electric shock or other hazard. Any evidence of any attempt to open and/or modify the device, including any peeling, puncturing, or removal of any of the labels, will void the Limited Warranty.

Usage and Cleaning

Use in accordance with these instructions:

- Do not use near any heat sources.
- Only use attachments/accessories specified by Microsoft.
- Clean only with dry cloth.

Keeping Cables Out of the Way of People and Pets

Arrange all cables and cords so that people and pets are not likely to trip over or accidentally pull on them as they move around or walk through the area. When the product is not in use, you may need to disconnect all cables and cords from the front and rear of the product to keep them out of the reach of children and pets. Do not allow children to play with cables and cords.

Laser and LED Specifications

Radio and TV Interference Regulations

The Microsoft hardware device(s) can radiate RF energy. If not installed and used in strict accordance with the instructions given in the printed documentation and/or on-screen Help files, the device may cause harmful interference with other radio-communications devices (for example AM/FM radios, televisions, baby monitors, cordless phones, etc). There is, however, no guarantee that RF interference will not occur in a particular installation.

To determine if your hardware device is causing interference to other radio-communications devices, disconnect the device from your computer or remove the device's batteries (for a battery operated device). If the interference stops, it was probably caused by the device. If the interference continues after you disconnect the hardware device or remove the batteries, turn the computer off and then on again. If the interference stopped when the computer was off, check to see if one of the input/output (I/O) devices or one of the computer's internal accessory boards is causing the problem. Disconnect the I/O devices one at a time and see if the interference stops.

If this hardware device does cause interference, try the following measures to correct it:

- Relocate the antenna of the other radio-communications device (for example AM/FM radios, televisions, baby monitors, cordless phones, etc.) until the interference stops.
- Move the hardware device farther away from the radio or TV, or move it to one side or the other of the radio or TV.
- Plug the computer into a different power outlet so that the hardware device and radio or TV are on different circuits controlled by different circuit breakers or fuses.
- If necessary, ask your computer dealer or an experienced radio-TV technician for more suggestions. For more information about interference issues, go to the FCC Web site at:
<http://www.fcc.gov/cgb/consumerfacts/interference.html>.

You can also call the FCC at 888-CALL FCC to request Interference and Telephone Interference fact sheets.

For Bluetooth and 2.4 GHz devices only: To comply with FCC RF exposure requirements, the following operating configurations must be satisfied: the antenna has been installed by the manufacturer and no changes can be made. The wireless devices must not be co-located or operating in conjunction with any other antenna or transmitter. Except for headset and handheld devices, wireless devices must be at least 20 cm between the antenna of the wireless device and all persons.

For 802.11 devices only: This product is restricted to indoor use only to reduce any potential for harmful interference with licensed operation in the 5.15 to 5.25 GHz frequency range.
