(Original Grant date: 7/25/2013)
Applicant: Microsoft

Dear Examiner,

With this letter, Microsoft confirms that the controller, Model 1537 is a client product. It does not initiate any transmission in the 5.25-5.35 GHz and 5.47-5.725 GHz bands and performs passive scan only in order to discover a master device. Before a master device is found and communication with the master device is established, the Model 1537 device listens only without sending probes in the above mentioned bands.

Below is a per channel listing of where Model 1537 performs passive scan only before communication with a master is established
