Dear Sir,

We just have CH87502AGXX-00 granted, unfortunately the Users Manual exhibit uploaded was not the final version. The grantee WESTEL Inc. has provided an explanation letter found in next page. We may need your help to remove this exhibit from the database. Please notify us when we can upload the correct exhibit after you remove the incorrect one. Sorry for any trouble.

If there are any questions, please contact me via the e-mail:

Re: FCC OET Listing for CH87502AGXX-00

To Whom It May Concern,

At the time of filing documents for CH87502AGXX-00, we only had a customer specific (Verizon) user manual for the product available. Unfortunately, after being released on the FCC Website, CE Pro and Engadget have found this manual and published articles on our customer's intent to launch a new service ahead of the customer going public with this new product / service offering. The customer specific manual also contains web site links which were not intended to be circulated in the public domain - they were intended only for a limited use trial. Therefore, we respectfully request that our filing be updated to remove the customer specific user guide and replaced with the attached Westell generic user guide.

We would greatly appreciate our filing being updated promptly and apologize for creating effort for your web staff.

NOTE - The user manual for the CH87502AGXX-00 has two OET Exhibit listings - one for the 908Mhz testing and another for the 2412 -2462Mhz testing.

Sincerely yours,
