Dear Helen,

Attached please find revised user manual. Please substitute the user manual of FCC application with the one attached. Thank you very much.

Best regards,

Question #1: The schematics and user manual indicate that the device is using a 9V battery, but the test report and the operational description indicate a 12V battery is used. Please verify which one is correct and submit revised files accordingly.

Question #2: This is for your information, the proper Equipment of Class for this device should be "DSC-Part 15, Security/Remote Control Transmitter". FCC15.231 or 15.231(e) devices fall in "DSC-Part 15, Security/Remote Control Transmitter" if they are transmitters or "DSR-Part 15, Remote Control/Security Device Transceiver" if they are transceivers.

Best regards,
Helen Zhao
