

The PS Controller is a low powered, battery operated transmitter designed for industrial remote control systems. It operates on a single-channel in the 447 - 473 MHz band. The transmitter, constructed on an etched circuit card, is powered from an internal battery. An internal antenna is used.