

RF exposure information:

Cordless Phone Base:

This Mobile Spread Spectrum Transmitter operates under §15.247 in the peak conducted output is well below the 20 cm separation distance limit of 200 mW for operation in the 2400 MHz band.

Cordless phone handsets:

Transmitter uses monopole type antenna as an integral part of the device. The power output is well below the 200 mW level for transmission in the 2400 MHz band. Special instructions or warnings are not necessary to ensure compliance.