

The wedge on the far left and right sides are used to prevent battery compartment door removal.

The wedge on the far left and right sides are used to prevent battery compartment door removal.

The wedge on the far right side that is used to prevent a screwdriver from removing the battery compartment door.

Another view showing the wedge that is used to prevent a screwdriver from removing the battery compartment door.