

General Product Description

The Shure Model U1B is a UHF, μ P (microprocessor) controlled, transmitter operating over the frequency range of 692 to 716 MHz (With five different models). The transmitter features a minimum of 12hrs. battery life using 2 'AA' alkaline batteries, an LCD readout of group/channel with a battery status indicator, a metal enclosure, and utilizes an external antenna to provide optimum range. This product is intended for use in high-end installed sound, rental, and concert sound markets.